Director Report November 18th, 2026

☎ 603.447.5552 | ConwayPublicLibrary.org

15 GREENWOOD AVENUE | CONWAY, NH 03818

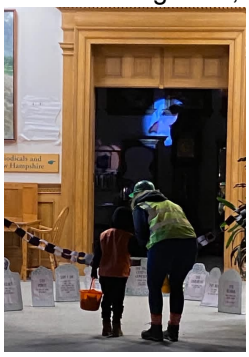

The NH State Library resumed door-to-door delivery for all North Country libraries at the beginning of November. Conway will now see the ILL van every Tuesday, as well as continuing to serve as a hub for NNHLC transfers.

This Halloween, the Library opened its doors on Saturday evening to welcome the ghouls, goblins, and countless other trick-or-treaters roaming the streets of Conway Village. From 5-8pm, well over 1,000 visitors of all ages came through our doors, making for a wonderfully spirited evening filled with spooky fun and community connection!

Library handyman and volunteer Bob Pletschke completed desperately needed repairs to the outdoor trash shed, including replacing warped and broken boards, realigning the hinges to rehang the doors, restoring the rusted lock, elevating and leveling the shed on concrete foundation blocks, and painting the entire structure.

Our OM teams saw great success this year at their annual bake sale fundraiser. Thank you to Settlers Green for including us as part of their “Bring a Friend” shopping weekend!

At the end of October, Tessa and Drea attended a one-day children’s and young adult library conference in Plymouth, New Hampshire. They had the opportunity to hear three New England authors--Lois Lowry, Beth Janelle, and M.T. Anderson--speak, offering inspiration for their role in providing opportunities for kids of all ages to learn, explore, and grow. The inspiration continued with afternoon breakout sessions featuring fresh ideas for pop-up library programs and the latest insights on AI use in libraries. The day concluded with an overview of the New Hampshire youth book awards and how we can contribute to this annual process.

Respectfully submitted,

Jefferson M. Beavers
Library Director